DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in on August 18, 2004. In the amendment, applicant has amended claims 25, 31, 37, and 41. The examiner notes that claim 37 and its entirety have been previously withdrawn. Therefore claims 37 and its entirety will not be considered.

Claims 19-23, 25 and 31 are present in the application and are examined below.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 19-23, 25, and 31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 19, 25 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Regarding claim 19, 25 and 31, the limitation of "purchase order transaction" is not supported by the specification. The examiner is unable to find where such limitation is disclosed in the specification. Therefore, one skilled in the art would not know how to make and/or use the invention.

Claims 20-23, 25 are necessarily rejected as being dependent upon the rejection of claim 19.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 19-23, 25, and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thomas et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,330,574) in view of Dilger (Asst Management, maintenance redefined)

As per claims 19, 23, and 31, Thomas et al disclose a data structure for communicating business information comprising:

(a) providing a database including a request for proposal mechanism and a plurality of service provider data structures and a plurality of manufacturer data structures, wherein said request for proposal is a request for an economic transaction proposal, wherein each service provider data structure includes a description of service provided by a particular service provider and wherein each manufacturer data structure includes a description of offerings of a particular manufacturer, identifying a particular data structure based on a request for economic transaction proposal from a user utilizing the request for proposal mechanism, wherein the user is a service provider (i.e. a database having data structures of contractor information and bid "request for proposal" information, identifying the bid information) (col. 2, lines 45 through col. 3 line 14; col. 7, lines 20-43).

Thomas et al fail to disclose affording network-based management services to the user based on the request for proposal and the identified data structure, wherein affording project management services includes managing assets in a networked-based supply chain, including optimizing use of service provider assets and manufacturer assets and providing maintenance and service provider and manufacturer assets. Dilger in the same field of endeavor, discloses the concept of asset management and optimization. Note pages 1-4 of Dilger. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to have modified the disclosures of Thomas et al to incorporate an asset management and optimization as taught by Dilger. A person having ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to use such a modification because it would allow manufactures to optimize their resources.

As per claim 20, Thomas et al do not explicitly disclose the step of tracking a status of manufacturing process performed by the identified service provider. Dilger in the same field of endeavor disclose the tracking of services provided by the service provider. Note page 1 of Dilger. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to have modified the disclosures of Thomas et al to incorporate a tracking of service provided by a service provider as evidenced by Dilger in order to keep track of inventory of the manufacturer.

Art Unit: 3623

As per claims 21 and 22, Thomas et al do not explicitly disclose allowing the user to inquiry service engineers and service chemists. However, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to modify the teachings of Thomas to include a service engineer/chemist in order to assist businesses in meeting their needs for providing and obtain a variety of services.

Claim 25 is a computer program embodied on a computer readable medium for providing supply chain/workflow services in a contract manufacturing framework, in a contract manufacturing framework, a method of providing access to service for performing the steps of claim19; therefore, claim 25 is rejected under the same rationale as claim 19.
